

Document lifting coronavirus restrictions on entry and exit from Russia published

Finally, a document has been published that removes restrictions on crossing the land border imposed in connection with the COVID-19 pandemic from July 15, 2022

On July 15, 2022, the order of the Government of Russia dated July 14, 2022 No. 1267 "On the invalidation of certain acts and certain provisions of acts of the Government of Russia" entered into force. This decree lifts restrictions on crossing the land border of Russia, taken earlier in connection with the spread of coronavirus.

The lifting of restrictions and the appearance of this document were announced in the message of the Government of Russia on July 4, 2022, which we wrote about earlier in our news.

The published document completely cancels the Order of the Government of Russia No. 635-r dated March 16, 2020, the Order of the Government of Russia No. 763-r dated March 27, 2020, and 48 more acts that at different times introduced restrictions on the entry and exit from Russia of citizens of different states in connection with the COVID-19 pandemic.

Citizens of Russian can now without special reason travel across land borders to all neighboring countries, and citizens of any country can arrive to Russia by land for any purpose.

Also, two days earlier, the requirement for PCR tests for citizens of Belarus who arrived in Russia by air was canceled.

However, please note that we are talking about the actual possibility of leaving and entering, and not about anti-epidemic requirements. The requirements for the presentation of negative PCR tests for arrivals continue to operate, they are regulated by Rospotrebnadzor and have not been removed.
