Working temporarily staying foreigners will be insured under compulsory medical insurance, with the exception of HQS

Since on November 12, 2022, a new order of the Ministry of Internal Affairs on the procedure for medical check-up came into force, we decided to tell the audience about all the details related to this.

Sofia Batura, a Russian expert in migration law and a permanent speaker at Confidence Group events, touched upon the key issues of concern to all participants of the webinar:

- Who needs to undergo a medical check-up and why?
- Where can I get a medical check-up and how does the place of taking tests and the opportunity to use their results correlate with the execution of migration documents?
- Where and in what situations will you need to undergo fingerprinting?
- Is there a relationship between passing a medical check-up and fingerprint registration?
- What are the requirements for medical documents, and what are their validity periods?
- What is the procedure and terms for submitting medical documents to government agencies? When and who needs to be retested?

More than 100 representatives of partner companies and customers of Confidence Group services have registered for the webinar. We are very pleased to see a professional and active audience. Thank you for your attention, trust and your questions!

We've received a lot of great feedback on our work. This is especially nice.

I would like to quote the words of one of the participants:

"Recently, the volume of the regulatory framework in the migration sphere has reached such a size that it is impossible to independently understand it and take into account all the nuances of staying and attracting foreign citizens. I would like to thank Sofia Batura, who hosts webinars on actual migration issues on a highly professional level. Competent presentation of information, patient explanation of complex issues, distribution of additional materials, updating of news - this is what makes Confidence Group stand out!"

We are mutually grateful!

Sincerely,

Team Confidence Group.
